MEET IN KETCHIKAN

The Ted Ferry Civic Center - Owned & Operated by the City of Ketchikan

The ideal meeting place since opening in 1994, the Ted Ferry Civic Center exemplifies the convergence of Alaskan ruggedness and beauty with modern convenience. Along with high-speed internet access and today's technology in a state-of-the-art, award-winning conference center, we offer our legendary brand of Alaskan hospitality that provides personal service and flexibility comparable to none. It is the perfect setting for a multitude of events – small meetings, retreats, auctions, receptions, banquets, parties, weddings, reunions, conventions, you name it. With a variety of table sizes and seating arrangements available, we can provide the perfect set up for your next event – from very small groups to a maximum of 550 in a theater-style configuration. Just let us know what you want to do and how many attendees you expect, and we'll recommend the best and easiest ways for you to accomplish your goals. Remember, your success is top priority to our staff.
